EPPS'S COCOA
Breakfast.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

FROM AN AMERICAN FRIEND.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., JUNE 18TH.
To the Editor of THE EXPRESS.

If I were to name this letter I should call it "Canadian Boys in the States," for it is about this subject I wish to write. It is remarkable the number of young men born in Canada one meets in this country, especially in the large cities. We, ourselves find one another very readily for our common country acts as a species of freemasonry among us and it takes but a few moments to get fairly well acquainted.
There are a great many boys from Lennox and Addington in Boston and Providence, boys I used to go to school with. They drop in the office now and then, and business is suspended while we talk over old times.

It is a pleasure to say that since I have been in this country, and it is now about seven years—I have never met a Canadian in hard luck. Everyone of them seemed doing tip-top; in fact, better than the average American. The reason for this is very plain. They leave home with very little means and when they get here it is a case of sink or swim, and they choose to swim every time. They work hard and faithfully; they give their employers the idea that they are in earnest, and consequently they get pushed along. Then again they are strong, physically and mentally. They have not worn themselves out in dissipation, (for you find all your sons still loading about the home post office steps); they have not become satiated with pleasure too early in life, and consequently they are active, eager to "catch on," willing to be pleased, and so they succeed commercially and socially.

Now I suppose a number of the young men who read this letter will ask, "What are the chances for us down there? We are willing to do anything." In reply I would say that if success can be obtained by staying at home, stay there; for Canada is just as pleasant a land to live in as any on earth; but if every avenue to work seems choked up by other men, don't loaf, get out of the country and come here, and if you have the courage of your convictions you will find something to do.

It is this way. There are probably a thousand young men idle in the city to-day and they say there is no work—for them; but there is always a job for the man who means business and starts in to earn his salary.

The Napanee boys "caught on" famously in Boston and the other New England cities where I have met them. Now I can remember when the young men in Napanee were a pretty fast crowd, and a number of the fellows here were right among them. The day was a lucky one for them when they broke those associations and got away from home. They are still hale fellows well met, but they do not loaf about hotel sitting rooms now, or play pool half the time. They are perhaps no better than they were, but they know but a very few people, and the desire for the Bohemianism of a country town dies out. It is when we get together and talk over those old days when we were watery mouthed boys about town that we realize what the change of climate has done for us in the way of bracing us up.

I once lay around home for a year and loafed. I would like to cut that useless year out of my life somehow. It makes me ashamed yet and if my advice is worth anything at all let it all go in favor of never standing still one moment. "Move on!" It is the cry of the age. The man who stops to "worry about it" loses his grip. If there are any young men in Lennox and Addington who feel crowded out I advise them to come here, for the opportunities are larger and the business is brisker generally. Life is only a procession anyway, and the sooner one gets into the column and starts the long tramp the better.

It seems absurd on the face of it that the youth of Canada should be coming in such great numbers to this country. It is not right naturally. It is a political crime

POLITICAL AND GENERAL.

The Montreal Gazette charges the Free Press with criticising Sir John Macdonald's coffin. That is a "party exigencies" falsehood. The Free Press merely pointed out that the very patriotic Tories had buried their late leader in a Yankee-made coffin. That was a statement of fact, not a criticism.

Timothy Healy is about to sue The Freeman's Journal for libel in suggesting that he conspired corruptly with the representatives of the crown to induce the Gweedore prisoners to plead guilty to the charge of murder. The defence say they will make some spicy revelations during the trial.

LIVERPOOL, June 19.—Two hundred bales of cotton have been taken out of the hold of the steamship City of Richmond. Most of the cotton is badly charred and many bales are destroyed. The fire was mainly on the port side; there the plates are bulged. It will be necessary to remove another hundred bales before the fire can be subdued.

The population of London, according to the census of 1891, is 5,633,330. These figures include the London suburbs, and show the metropolis to contain more than Ireland by almost a million.
The population of Ireland, according to the census figures published a few days ago, is 4,766,162, having decreased during the decade past by 468,674.

COLBORNE.—Mr. S. Dorland, Dentist, is the possessor of a mare, at present pasturing on a farm a little southwest of Castleton, which, a few days ago, gave birth to a colt having only three legs. The foal is perfect in every way with the exception of having only one leg in front. Parties who have seen the colt declare that it can get up and down or move around just as quickly as any animal having four limbs.

St. Petersburg, June 22.—A terrible balloon accident occurred near this city yesterday. A large balloon belonging to Count Apraxine was being inflated when it escaped from the people who were holding it to the ground, and carried upward four workmen who were in the car. The balloon rose rapidly to a great height and then burst. The bodies of the four unlucky workmen after the explosion fell to the ground and were smashed almost beyond recognition.

The Ohio election will have a national importance, not only because of the greatness of the chief issue, but also because it involves the choice of a Legislature whose duty it will be to elect a United States Senator who will hold his seat for six years from March 4, 1893, and whose further duty it will be to re-district the State for Representatives in Congress under the new census. The fight, as we have said, will be a hot one, and its progress will be keenly and anxiously watched by both parties in every State of the Union.

LONDON, June 21.—Sir Richard Mansel, the Welsh baronet who last April married Lily Ernest, a popular music hall dancer and singer, in order to restore his fallen fortunes, has found her to be a gold mine. The connection has enhanced her value and popularity on the stage, on which she still remains, and her earnings have largely increased. Mr. Benjamin, a prominent pawnbroker, to whom Sir Richard owes considerable money, believing that he has been banking his wife's receipts, has forced him into the Bankruptcy Court, and he will be declared a bankrupt. It is probable the baronet will soon be able to compound with his creditors.

England is getting a taste of the medicine now considered rather obnoxious in America. Since the first of the month more than a thousand pauper aliens have arrived in London. No figures are yet obtainable of the numbers arrived at other ports, but they are probably large enough to give the cause for the general anxiety felt touching the compulsory exodus of poor Jews from Russia. The matter has been brought to the attention of Parliament, but the latter has done nothing yet except to set out the

ADDRESS,

JOHN POLLARD,

Napanee Express Office.

Lost a $700 Diamond Ring.

MONTREAL, June 23.—The wife of the manager of a well-known express company had occasion to leave Toronto for Montreal. She took a sleeper. When some 30 miles from Montreal she went to the toilet room and while washing her hands the soap loosened the ring which slipped from her finger and rolled into the washbasin and down the water pipe to the track below.
Sectionmen have since searched for the ring, but without success.

The balance has been so struck, and the men who have tied up Canada's resources are to blame for this. The politician whose ambition is to leave a great name should remember that history never forgives and there are men who will suffer a terrible mauling when Canada feels herself free and proceeds along the highway of prosperity.

Give Canada a free market in this country, open up her door to American investment, and there can be but one result for no country on earth is naturally richer than she. You will draw gold and people.
Your young men will stay at home because they can do better there and conditions will be so reversed that you will attract the brains and ambitious youth of this country.
It is only a question of time at best, but it seems wrong that the beautiful young woman Grip calls Canada should be sitting with bowed head all day long, her naked feet in the sand.

FRED. W. SHIDLEY.

The Sugar Question.

The Ontario Ministerial members of the House of Commons are disturbed over the position of the sugar question. The expected tariff changes will include a rebate to the refiners for refined sugar exported.
The rebate will be equal to the duty on the raw sugar less five per cent. This is all very well as a measure of further protection but even the Ontario protectionists feel that unless something is done for the consumer the protest already heard from the consumers will swell into a deeper one. A dozen members from Ontario therefore waited on the Minister of Customs and represented the bad position they were placed in before their constituents. The members of the deputation, which included Messrs. Clarke, Wallace, Tyrwhitt, Cochrane and Ferguson (of Leeds), are very reticent about their visit to the minister, but it is understood that they strongly urged for some action which would give them some ground for defending themselves.
It is believed that on Tuesday Mr. Foster will announce in his Budget speech that a rebate will also be granted on sugar refined for domestic use. That would simply mean the complete abolition of the duty on raw sugar without any guarantee that the refiners would reduce the price of sugar of the figures at which it is now sold in the United States. It will be interesting to see how the Government will meet the difficulty.

Quebec Harbor Stealings.

Those who read the evidence disclosing the diabolical methods of robbing the public treasury adopted by the Quebec harbor works bidders, must remember that Mr.
McGreevy could not have carried out any of his engagements with the contractors except with the aid and approval of Sir Hector Langevin, minister of public works and leader of the government in the House of Commons. The arrangement by which the contractors received thirty-five cents per yard for dredging work, which they found profitable at twenty-seven cents, could not have been carried out except with the full approval of the minister and his chief engineer. And then the new agreement allowed the contractors to throw the excavated mud in the river instead of upon an embankment, thus effecting a saving to them which engineer Boyd estimated at five cents per yard. Therefore the new contract, between increased price and improved conditions, gave Larkin, Connolly & Co. thirteen cents a yard more than the original contract. Thirteen cents a yard on 800,000 yards was $104,000, out of which they could well afford to pay Mr. McGreevy his $27,000. The witness examined yesterday also made some incomplete statements about payments by his firm to the inspectors appointed to watch them. It would be interesting to know how many yards made 800,000 in the calculations of Mr. McGreevy's contractors.
As before stated, none of Mr. McGreevy's bargains with the contractors could have been carried out without the assistance of the minister of public works. And is it not a singular coincidence that every large contract awarded by public works department during recent years has been secured by Larkin, Connolly & Co.—Ottawa Free Press.

Nine Long Years.

Mrs. John McLean writes from Berrie
Island, Ont., March 4, 1889, as follows:
"I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia for the last nine years, but, being advised to try St. Jacobs Oil, can now heartily endorse it as being a most excellent remedy for this complaint, as I have been greatly benefited by its use."

ments from consuls in Russia, and they are only able to say that no passports have been issued for England. Their impression is that the wanderers are destined for Palestine and America chiefly.

The Protectionist Policy of our Government has enabled American manufacturers to secure a monopoly of some lines of manufactures in Canada, thus in effect making Canadian consumers contributors of subsidies to foreign manufacturers. The latest instance of this kind reported is the purchase of all the cordage works in Canada by an American Company. This Company will be able to charge Canadian consumers all the protective tariff will allow, and the profit of the business will be spent in the United States. Protection results in monopoly, or it would not protect, and the monopolist lives by what he is enabled by protective tariffs to extort from the people.
The farmers of Canada, who pay two prices for binding twine, will have the comfort of reflecting that they are contributing to the wealth of American capitalists.—Witness.

BLENHEIM, Ont., June 18.—A sad case of murder and suicide happened this afternoon at Rondeau railway dock. The bodies of Mrs. David Clark and her two children, a little boy and a girl both under 4 years of age, were found alongside of the dock in about three feet of water. Mrs. Clark's eldest son, of 12 years of age had left his mother with the children about half an hour before the bodies were found, his mother having sent him to deliver a parcel to his aunt, who lived near by. His mother had evidently sent him to get him out of the way. The bodies were found close together, the youngest child being in its mother's arms. The following words were written on a plank of the dock:
"Do not blame Garney, I did it all."
"(Signed) Maggie."

Garney was the eldest boy's name. Mrs.
Clark's husband left her last fall with five children. This is supposed to have caused her to commit the rash deed.

BERLIN, June 21.—The formation of a great Central European Customs League is an accomplished fact acknowledged by the official circle. The exchange of communication between Germany, Hungary, Italy, and Switzerland has resulted in the basis of a agreement which became known here yesterday. Interest in the realization of the most formidable Zollverein ever conceived will pervade that in every of public matter when the scheme is gene-ly published. In the meantime the official circle alone knows that the negotiations have attained a definitely successful for this purpose has been arranged in Berne on July 20. The league an intimate commercial alliance, in which no one of the contracting powers will be privileged to form a trade treaty with any other outside the union unless it first obtains the assent of the other parties to the alliance.

After Sir Hector Langevin had made his announcement of the "policy" of his administration on Thursday, Mr. Laurier asked if it was the intention of the government to make a motion to go into committee of supply on the following day. Mr.
Foster replied in the affirmative, and then Mr. Laurier gave notice that when such a motion was made he would propose an amendment criticising the so called policy of the government. This announcement seems to have scared the ministers so completely that they broke faith with the house, and refused to make any motion to go into supply on Friday. Such an exhibition of cowardice is probably without a parallel in parliamentary history. Mr. Laurier is altogether too chivalrous in dealing with "the gang" who now occupy the treasury benches. They seem to have no regard whatever for the ordinary courtesies of parliament, but take advantage of every petty quibble which their minds may suggest, to avoid a straightforward discussion on their policy and conduct. The ministerialists pretend that they are strong and that they their opponents are weak. Yet they shrink from a discussion upon their policy. Henceforward Mr. Laurier should give the Tories no notice of his intentions with respect to motions. Men who act in such a contemptible fashion as the ministers did last week are not entitled to any consideration at his hands. No doubt the shocking revelations made as to the manner in which public money is stolen by bidders operating through Sir Hector Langevin's department made the ministers hesitate about testing their strength. The cowardice they displayed indicates that the vehement appeals of the Tory organs for unity in the party are not without cause.

MR. WILFRID LAURIER, M. P.

Majority, 20.
awa, June 22.—Mr. Laurier's promisecism of the new Government was
day. He took the opportunity ented itself this afternoon, and assault when the orders of the alled by moving the adjournment of the House.

The attack took a peculiar turn. In order to make it Mr. Laurier found it necessary to eulogize the late Premier. Sir John Macdonald, he said, had maintained the equilibrium between the various sections of the Dominion and had dealt fairly al-round. No higher praise could have been given the departed statesman. Then came a contrast based upon Mr. Abbott's late relations with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. Mr. Abbott has been solitor for the company. He has been a large shareholder, and up to the day that he became Premier he was a director.
These facts led Mr. Laurier to believe that the Canadian Pacific railway enjoys a preponderating influence in the councils of the Government, in which respect the Administration of day differs from that of Sir John Macdonald. Then there followed, not from Mr. Laurier, but from Mr. Richard Cartwright, Mr. Mills, and the Liberals who followed, a warm expression of kindly feeling for Sir John Thompson and high eulogiums touching his ability and fairness.
Upon these praises were hung a complaint that he had not become Prime Minister, but, on the contrary, had been passed over because, as Mr. Amyot put it, the fanaticism and bigotry of Ontario opposed him.

As the debate progressed the point of the Opposition attack became clearer. The purpose was to fix upon the Conservative party the stigma of having refused to be led by Sir John Thompson because he is a Roman Catholic. The charge was denied energetically and forcibly. It was declared that the party would willingly have served under him, but the denials often as made were promptly met by a reference to the observation of Mr. Abbott, that he himself was a bompraise, accepted because he was un-objectionable.

Though the motion of Mr. Laurier looked only to an adjournment, it was a decided test of party strength. This was appreciated by the Ministry, and time was killed until a late train brought in four absent members from Montreal who had been specially telegraphed for. The vote stood 83 to 103, which gives the Government a majority of 20. In the division Mr. Tarte and Mr. Savard, who have gone Liberal for good, voted for the Opposition. Mr.
Joncas did not vote, but he took the Opposition side, and paired with Mr. Chapleau.
There were four absentees from the Government side, Messrs. Wilmot, Pelletier and McCarthy, and Sir Donald Smith.

The two Sir Johns certainly had an enormous share of praise from the Opposition, the late Sir John because of the vigour with which he is said to have held the Canadian Pacific railway in check, and the present Sir John because of the talent and justice he displays in the management of Parliamentary affairs. The Minister of Justice fairly blushed under the shower of compliments entered against his return. This, it is said, has decided him. As the Conservatives entered the petition he passes to the other side. The three members notified Sir Hector Langevin formally that they would not vote with the Government on Friday night. A great deal of jubilation has filled the Liberal ranks since these desertions, on the principle of course that there is more joy over the repentance of three opponents than over the old flock that has always been true.—Mail.

Spartan are two of her fastest cruisers.
The orders referring to the above mentioned vessels follow a series of recent British naval orders which have caused it to be observed in American naval circles that Great Britain is quietly replacing all her ships now on the American coast by the most powerful war vessels she can spare. The Hercules relieves the flagship Bellerophon and the Sirius and Spartan relieve the Emerald and Comus, both inferior ships.
The Hercules brings out from England Vice-Admiral Hopkins. This officer will command all British warships now in or ordered to American waters. Two additional cruisers have been selected to relieve the gunboats Ready and Thrush. An armored cruiser will relieve the Tourmaline.
It is declared in well informed Government circles that the British Admiralty proposes to offset in fighting efficiency the new vessels of the United States navy. To do this the Admiralty will send over vessels to increase the fleet in American waters in proportion to the growth of the new navy of the United States. British naval officers believe that by reason of her great size the Hercules is a more powerful vessel than the new American armored cruiser Maine will be. With the possible exception of the Miantonnoah, they say the Hercules is more than a match for any of the American warships now in commission. The British force in American waters will in future be larger than at any time since the civil war. It has been constantly increasing until now it has assumed formidable proportions. Besides increasing her naval force, Great Britain during the past three years has increased by one half the strength of her troops in the West Indies.

Why Mr. Foster Finked.
With the view of directing public attention from the despicable cowardice displayed by the federal ministers on Friday the subsidized Tory organs have been compelled to resort to wholesale falsehood. Mr.
Foster having promised that he would make a motion to go into committee of supply on that day Mr. Laurier, with his usual courtesy, gave notice that he would propose an amendment showing that the policy of the present government differed very materially from that of Sir John Macdonald.
Surely that was notice enough. He was not bound to give notice of any kind. Did the Langevinites expect that Mr. Laurier would allow them to to frame his resolution for him? But Mr. Foster finked. He did not make any motion to go into supply, and consequently Mr. Laurier had no opportunity of moving his amendment.
The reason why Mr. Foster finked was sooth ascertained. He knew that several gentlemen who have hitherto supported the ministry had become disgusted by the McGreevy disclosures and intended voting with the opposition. And the pretense of the Tory organs that Mr. Laurier might have moved but failed to do so is a falsehood which will add to the rising tide of public contempt in which the Dowdney-Caron-Haggart clique will shortly be submerged. The Empire, for instance, says:
"On the order of the day being called he
(Mr. Laurier) had the opportunity to put forward his resolution, but he sat like a statue." The chief Tory organ's disregard for truth is only paralleled by its ignorance.
There is probably not a messenger or page boy about the House of Commons who does not know that no resolution can be moved before the orders of the day are called.
In fact the present Speaker, who Tamworth.

The rain which fell last week was a welcome guest to the farmers.

Last week an old man by the name of McMullen was blasting a well near River Clare. He put in a blast and lighted the fuse; but thinking it was a long time going off he approached, when the blast exploded with terrific force, pretty nearly killing him.
The doctor took forty-eight stones out of his face. He has lost the sight of one eye.

As may be seen by the above score Dr.
Burrows was the principal man on the Napanee side, his bowling being simply superb, taking 6 wickets for 5 runs in the first innings, and he also made a splendid stand at the bat. Messrs. Maybee and Leonard played well. Richardson played in his usual style behind the wickets. The colts or junior members played well in the field, and did very well at the bat especially
Mr. Jellett. Of the Belleville team we might say, that although they had a strong team they were completely paralysed by Dr. Burrows' bowling.

ary affairs. The Minister of Justice fairly blushed under the shower of compliments with which he was the recipient. At some future day, in all probability, his opponents will regret that they were animated by a desire to show that he, as a Roman Catholic, had been maltreated. But the criticism of Mr. Abbott was somewhat spoiled by the fact that he has divested himself of all interest in the Canadian Pacific railway. Had he retained his stock, the case against him would have been overwhelming. Without the stock it is possible that his regard for his party and for his own good name may prompt him to mete out to the company with which he has been connected no more than justice. Time of course will show.

As to Sir John Thompson, he threw new light upon his position. It has been intimated that Sir John was only called upon to advise his excellency as to the course he should pursue in the formation of a Ministry. This was the form that the official explanation of the negotiations took. But Mr. Abbott intimated in the Senate that he was himself but a compromise, and in view of this it devolved upon Sir John Thompson to give the entire facts relating to his meeting with the Governor. It appears that Sir John was distinctly offered the Premiership. But he says he declined, because he felt the honor ought to pass to some one who, having been longer in public life, was his senior in age, experience, and wisdom.

An unhappy feature of the debate was Sir Hector Langevin, who was continually abused for having been passed over, the idea being that he was thus treated because of the McGreevy revelations. Sir Hector received the assaults upon him with all meekness, but endeavored to recover himself in a speech, in the course of which he proclaimed his loyalty to the party and appealed to the party to stand by itself and by him. There were cheers for Sir Hector as he spoke, but they were not from the heart.

PRIVILEGES AND ELECTIONS COMMITTEE.
The Privileges and Elections Committee was to have met to-day, but the absence of a quorum made this impossible. Among those who failed to put in an appearance were Messrs. (ironard, chairman; Tarte, O'Brien, his counsel; and Mr. O. E. witness, whose examination was continued.—Mail Correspondent.

ne 21.—The refusal of the ant to go into supply and thus "anrier an opportunity to com" "black," is regarded by the play of the white feather. something in the theory wanted to delay, for the and now is not so constituted divisions from the ministerial now desirable. Sir Donald Smith and Mr. McCarthy are absent without and Mr. Chapleau was out of the seat for Kingston is vacant, and so is one of the seats held by Sir Hector Langevin. Here are five blanks. A vote taken just now would be anything but a good showing of Conservative strength. On the other hand, Mr. Laurier did not make it plain that he was going to move on Friday when the Supply motion was reached. His remarks pointed that way, but they were scarcely conclusive. At all events, there was no arrangement that Supply should be called. As it was the day was not wasted. An immense amount of Government business was done, and a distinct advance was made towards the end.

THE LIBERAL GAME
If from the public point of view there was no loss of time, from the Liberal point of view there was a distinct gain. The rumor given in this column that three members who had hitherto voted Conservative had gone over to the Liberals is verified. Two of the names were mentioned on Saturday—Those of Mr. Tarte and Mr. Jones. The third is that of Mr. Savard. Mr. Tarte was a Conservative, but was elected for Manimorency with Mr. Laurier's approval. It has been thought that he would remain Conservative except with regard to the McGreevy case. His votes for the Government at the early part of the session lent force to this expectation. He now passes to the Liberals for good. Mr. Jones was a supporter of the Government in the late Parliament. He was elected by acclamation for Gaspe this time; but so the Liberals said, on the promise that he would support them if they gained strength. He has voted with the Ministerialists hitherto, but now deserts. Mr. Savard comes from Chicoutimi. He was not the ministerial candidate but in the early part of the session he gave the Ministry a moderate support. His votes were alternately Conservative and Liberal.

moved before the orders of the day are called. In fact the present Speaker, who seems to act as dry nurse for the Abbott government, has ruled that there must be no discussion before the orders are called.—Free Press.

The Budget.
There was nothing very startling in Mr. Foster's budget statement Monday. He thinks the state of the country is satisfactory, and looks for a recovery in business if the growing crops turn out well; but he did not regale the House with any of those truly gorgeous pictures with which Tupper and Tilley used to dazzle us all. The McKinty bill will not in his opinion do any harm. He expressed his faith in our ability to open new markets for the coarse and bulky wares which are richly affected, but forgot to add that, even so, we shall have to pay more for transportation charges and must therefore lose by the change. When the Tories are advocating new protective duties they lay great stress on the advantage of a near market to the farmer; but when it suits their book they argue, like Mr. Foster, that after all the distant market is the thing. He has not much to say about his trip to the West Indies beyond expressing the hope that closer trade relations might yet be brought about, and he was still more reserved in his reference to the negotiations with Mr. Blaine. Liberals will be glad to hear that he has made up his mind to practise economy in the public expenditure. His proposal to repeal the duties on raw sugar which will deprive the treasury of three and a half millions of revenue per annum, has something to do with that comprehensible change of heart. In times past Mr. Foster took his stand on the high ground that Canada ought to run her own tariff in her own way. But just as the Old Man made haste to repeal the export duty on logs in order to avoid a penalty which Congress threatened to impose, so the Finance Minister has had to take account of the free sugar of the United States and alter his tariff accordingly. To it not somewhat absurd to call that a national policy which is in reality dictated by a foreign legislature? Mr. Foster asks for a million and a half of dollars to replace a portion of the sum lost by the freeing of raw sugar. He proposes to raise it by imposing a tax of a cent per pound on malt, which he estimates will augment the price of beer to the extent of three cents per gallon and yield a revenue of $500,000, by adding 20 cents per gallon to the excise duty on distilled spirits, which will give $600,000; and by making smokers bear an excise tax of five cents on tobacco together with a slight addition to the import duty on that article, which will bring in $400,000. Some slight changes are made in the duties on other articles. The sugar refiner is still to be protected, however, to the extent of eight-tenths of a cent per pound on refined sugar, which means that he is to be allowed to sweat the consumer to the extent of $1,800,000 a year. Sir Richard Cartwright made a vigorous reply to Mr. Foster, in which he dealt sharply with the Government's conduct in regard to reciprocity and reviewed the condition of the country at length. There is plenty of room for discussion in the budget statement, and the opposition will doubtless cover a good deal of it.—Globe.

A correspondent to The Kingston Whig suggests Hon Edward Blake as Sir John Macdonald's successor to the representation of the Limestone city in Parliament. It is a pity that Lady Macdonald did not address her recent letter to the people of Canada. In addressing it to the Tory party alone she shattered at one blow the pious notion that Sir John was a national statesman.

Vienna, June 22.—A savage riot occurred yesterday at Datsuna, Hungary. A mob of field laborers incited by socialist agitators, attacked the town hall and would probably have wrecked the building had it not been for the desperate resistance made by the gendarmes who stationed themselves behind the walls. The gendarmes fired upon the mob and killed four rioters on the spot and wounded seven others. This checked the order of the socialist element and order was soon after restored.

According to the Ottawa Free Press, the farmers of the Gattineau Valley above North Wakefield are selling their horses at all prices, owing to the small prospect of the hay crop. Not a drop of rain fell on the ground for eight consecutive weeks between Lowe and La Leche. In South Wakefield wheat had to be sown over again; meadows are all burnt by the intense heat of the sun, and what is saved from burning in the day time freezes at night. Potatoes and beans froze in the field on the night of the 10th instant. This would be an excellent place for some of the hungerers after fame as Arctic explorers to do a little wandering.

It is at times a rather disagreeable experience to receive a caning, but when it comes in the shape of a presentation the sensations produced are of a different nature. One day last week Mr. J. A. Cheaper Sugar.
Great interest was shown in the effect of the tariff changes to-day. One result is that sugars are reduced in price about two cents per pound to the consumers. The refiners, early in the day, would not quote prices, the excuse being that under the new tariff they did not know just exactly how they stood, but later in the day an agreement was apparently reached, and a list of prices sent out to wholesale trade. The final settlement of the sugar question found the wholesale trade ready and eager to buy. No business has been done for some time past, in anticipation of the changes, both wholesalers and retailers purchasing only for immediate needs, and the result is that stocks in the hands of both are exceedingly bare. The Customs authorities are in charge of the refineries at present. A special Customs official with a batch of clerks came down yesterday, and they are engaged in making an inventory of the stocks of sugar in the hands of the refiners. A quantity of the sugar is refined in bond, and on this the refiners have to pay the duty.

GARDEN PARTY AND CONCERT.—The ladies of the Eastern Methodist church have completed arrangements which ensure the distinguished success usually attending their efforts as entertainers and they invite everybody to the Lawn Social on Mr. W. F. Hall's spacious grounds on Monday evening next. The price of admission is fixed at 20c, covering refreshments and program. Strawberries and ice cream will be served as early as possible out of doors, the grounds being lighted by electricity for the occasion. The musical programme will include performances on various instruments by the best appreciated local amateurs and vocal music by popular singers. Mr. S. C. Warner has consented to preside during the more formal series of events. The Rev. Mr. Shorey will be present and the occasion will afford an opportunity of meeting him. The programme is not fully completed but the names of those who have already consented to assist is sufficient guarantee for quality, variety and popularity. Mr. A. S. Kimmerley and the Misses Kimmerley, Miss Chambers, Miss Hall, Mr. Wright, Mr. Huffman, and Mr. Stevens, with others comprise the instrumental numbers. Mrs. and Mr. W. Daly, Miss Louise Daly, Mr. Davis, and the Glee Club, the vocal parts. The lawn will be opened to the public at 8 o'clock.

NAPANEE, FRIDAY, JUNE 26, 1891.

If the dwindling away of the Government majority means anything it indicates that the Old Crowd and the Old Policy are played out.

GRIP says now that Sir John Macdonald is dead and luried it is time that his "mistakes" also were put in the grave—notably the Franchise Act, the Gerrymander Act, and the N.P.

SIR Richard Cartwright's words come to mind opportunely just now. The Rykert and McGreevy "jobs" are merely isolated peaks in the immense mountain range of Tory jobbery and corruption.

We have heard it said by some wit that Mr. Chapleau slipped on a banana peel and sprained his ankle, and that Sir John Thompson slipped on an orange peel and damaged his ambition.

THE arbitrators appointed by England on the Behring Sea Commission are Sir George Baden-Powell, M.P. for one of the divisions of Liverpool, and Mr. W. Dawson, of the Canadian Survey Department.

NEW South Wales may truly be styled a "loyal" colony, because at the election recently held there the people remained true to the old country policy of Free Trade. The played out fiscal policy of this continent has no charms for loyal people anywhere.

ON Monday the Sir John Macdonald Memorial Committee met at Kingston, and it was decided to invite contributions to a fund from Canadians everywhere. Committees will be formed in the larger cities of Europe and America to assist in the work.

THE Conservative Press will be taking credit for the concession about to be made in the sugar duties, for which we care little so long as the concession is made and an overtaxed public somewhat relieved. It would have been better though to economize at Ottawa to make up for the loss of revenue than to impose more duty on other articles. It is retrenchment as well as relief from taxation which is required. The retaining of nearly a cent per pound on the refined article to bonus our millionaire sugar lords is also a bad feature.

THE annexationist manifesto, signed among others by Mr. J. J. C. Abbott, sets forth:—"Of all remedies that have been suggested for the acknowledged and insufferable ills with which our country is afflicted, there remains but one to be considered. It propounds a sweeping and important change in our political and social condition, involving considerations which demand our most serious examination. This remedy consists in a friendly and TRACKMAN (to tramp)—"Sure, yez had better get off the track the fast mail is due." Tramp—"Say, boss, yer don't think I'd let it run over me, do ye?" "Faix it isn't that I fear, but the engineer will tak that nose of yez for a red light and stop the train."

DYSPEPSIA. This disease may be traced to a variety of causes, such as constipation, liver troubles, improper food, etc. There is one cure, Burdock Blood Bitters—which may be thoroughly relied on to effect a permanent cure. It has cured obstinate cases of 25 years standing.

A LITTLE yellow once observed, in reference to stepfathers, "I do not like those new papas; they whip the old papa's children."

LIKE PARALYSIS. "For years I suffered with my back which sometimes became so paralyzed, I suffered awful agony for months and could not sleep, but now, thanks to your Burdock Blood Bitters, I am strong again, have no pain and can work well, eat well, and sleep well."—Mr. Hammon, 23 Charlotte St., Toronto.

WHAT is that which is lengthened by being cut at both ends? A ditch.

WHY STRUGGLE. Why struggle with exhausting diseases when you may be promptly cured by the use of nature's remedy—Burdock Blood Bitters—the perfect cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, sick headache and all forms of bad blood from a common pimple to the worst scurfulous sore.

"I wish to propose for the hand of your daughter." "Which of them, young man? Which of them?" "Well, I don't know. Now, in confidence, which of them would you advise a fellow to take?"

LOW'S SULPHUR SOAP is an elegant toilet article, and cleanses and purifies the skin most effectually.

In what place did the cock crow when all the world heard him? In Noah's Ark.

ENRICH THE BLOOD by the use of Milburn's Beef, Iron and Wine, which supplies the necessary blood building material.

"Pa," said a small boy, "there's a poor man out there that would give anything to see you." "Who is it, my son?" "It's a blind man."

DO YOU COUGH? Don't delay. Take Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. It will cure cough and colds. It will cure sore throat or a tickling in the throat. It will cure lung pains in the chest. It will cure influenza and throatitis and all diseases pertaining to the lungs because it is a pure balsam. Hold it to the light

A Dangerous Counterfeit.

The man who counterfeits a coin or a bank note, or who is detected in an attempt to pass a counterfeit is speedily placed in prison as a person too dangerous to be permitted to be at large. How much more dangerous is the person who, for the sake of paltry gain, endeavors to impose upon the public a dangerous and worthless counterfeit of a popular medicine. The great popularity achieved by Pink Pills, and the wonderful results that have followed their use for the treatment of all female complaints, nervous diseases, and general debility in both males and females, has induced some unscrupulous parties to place upon the market a worthless imitation, resembling the genuine Pink Pills in appearance only. The public are cautioned against these spurious imitations, and are asked to see that every box they purchase bears the trade mark and name of The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., of Brockville, Ont. Do not permit any dealer to palm off upon you any imitation of the genuine pill, as not only will they not produce the expected results, but may prove positively harmful. No other pill made can produce the results obtained by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all dealers or sent post paid, on receipt of price (50c. a box) by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

It is fair to suppose that the turn of affairs in the McGreevy investigation has influenced the three members who are leaving the Tory ranks. Mr.
Tarte has evidently lost confidence in the Government. Mr. Joncas has wavered in his allegiance from time to time, and it is not surprising that he has at last resolved to throw in his lot with the Liberals. Mr. Savard was elected in Chicoutimi in opposition to Sir Adolphe Caron, and only gave the Government an independent support while Sir John was alive. A protest against his election entered by the Conservatives has finally settled which side he will take.

In the House of Commons at Ottawa on Monday last, Sir Hector Langevin, who has been "roasted" considerably by the Opposition, made a pathetic appeal to what he called his party. He declared he accepted office under Mr. Abbott because he was not the man to desert his party in a crisis.
But if the "crisis" is precipitated by Sir Hector's mismanagement, to use a mild term, of the Public Works department, is the party bound to stand by him? It would be meritorious from a party point of view, for Sir Hector to stand by his party if it was in difficulties not of his own creating.
But it is simply another exhibition of his "gall" to say he will stand by "his" party in a crisis brought on mainly by his own misdoings.

A REVISION of voters' lists under the Dominion Franchise Act will be made this year. The lists prepared this summer will probably be used at the bye-elections, and at the next general election, and who can tell how soon that may take place. To look after the lists is more than half the battle, and it is imperative that Reformers should pay attention to this matter. Every man entitled to vote should see that his name is on the new lists. In addition to this dead men's names should be struck off, also the names of those who have removed.
In particular the names of those who have annexed themselves to the States should be struck off. We know what the old lists were like, and should endeavor to have the new ones amended.

THE revelations in the McGreevy enquiry are so troubling Ministers, that schemes of all kinds are adopted to mitigate the severity of the blow about to fall on the management of the public works department. The Ottawa Free Press says:—"Whining appeals are being made to Liberal members of the House of Commons to 'pity the sorrows of a poor old man,' and treat the erring Sir Hector gently. During the present session a species of parliamentary shysterism has been introduced by the Tory Leaders, which is probably without a parallel. Opposition members are frequently annoyed by appeals made to them, when a division is about to be taken, by cabinet ministers or their satellites to vote with the government or to abstain from voting "as a personal favor." Such contemptible proceedings simply serve to illustrate the desperate condition to which the boddies have been reduced. No set of men possessed of a particle of self-respect would descend to such a level."

A WELCOME ANNOUNCEMENT. Those who have tested it say that for the grippe and especially for the cough that hangs on after the disease itself seems cured, there is nothing so effective as Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs. It cures the most stubborn colds, all throat and lung diseases, and the best cure for coughs and colds. The first dose will convince you of its excellent effect. All druggists sell it at 50c and $1 a bottle.

HOLD IT TO THE LIGHT. The man who tells you confidentially just what will cure your cold is prescribing Kemp's Balsam this year. In the preparation of this remarkable medicine for coughs and colds no expense is spared to combine only the best and purest ingredients. Hold a bottle of Kemp's Balsam to the light and look through it; notice the bright, clear look; then compare with other medicines. Price 50c and $1.

ARRESTED AND SET FREE. Dr. J. H.
Hilgard says in the Western Plowman: "If the first cough is properly treated the first step in the direction of consumption averted, the lung develops the breath set free, we do not fear consumption." Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs is the first and best treatment for colds,
coughs and colds no expense is spared to combine
only the best and purest ingredients. Hold a bottle of Kemp's Balsam to the light and look through it; notice the bright, clear look; then compare with other medicines. Price 50c and $1.

A PLEASANT HIGH DRAIN—A SPRING MEDICINE.

The druggist tells us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr. Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs and is made for use by pouring water into the bottle to draw out the strength. It sells at 50c and $1 a package and is called Lane's Family Medicine.

VIGILANT CARE. Vigilance is necessary against unexpected attacks of summer complaints. No remedy is so well known or so successful in this class of diseases as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Keep it in the house as a safe guard.

"PLEASE, I want to buy a dollar's worth of hay." "Is it for your father?" "Oh, no, it's for the horse; father doesn't eat hay."

DISTRUSTFUL PEOPLE. Make an exception in favor of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Its known virtues as a cure for diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus and all bowel complaints are well known to all who use it to be the most reliable and effectually remedy obtainable.

"Well, Dolie, how did you like the voyage to Europe. Were you seasick?"
"Not the least bit, grandpa, but I frowned up awfully the first free days."

A CANADIAN FAVORITE. The season of green fruits and summer drinks is the time when the worst forms of cholera morbus, diarrhoea and bowel complaints prevail. As a safeguard Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry should be kept in the house. For 35 years it has been the most reliable remedy.

ELECTRICITY IN THE CURE OF DIS-EASES. Attention is called to the Dorenweld Electric Belt. It is an invention of Mr. C. H.
Dorenweld, of Toronto. It is essentially of a battery in a belt, given a current of electricity, which can be regulated by the wearer, and is applied to the diseased parts by attachment. Competent authorities pronounce it to be far ahead of the orthodox method of applying electricity. It can be used by anyone. Send for the book and price lists to the Dorenweld Electric Belt Co.,

BEATRIX RANDOLPH

Bellingham walked slowly toward Madison square, with Mr. Randolph, among other things, on his mind. Still meditating he turned up Fifth avenue, and before long found himself opposite Mlle. Marana's hotel. It occurred to him that he had never yet called on her in her own apartments, and he resolved to repair that neglect. Accordingly he went to the office and inquired if she were in. The clerk glanced at the keyboard and said "Yes" abstractedly. Bellingham got into the elevator and went up.

The passageway, after the bright sunlight of the street, seemed rather dark.
Not knowing which way the numbers ran, he remained for a moment where the elevator left him. Just then a door was opened on the right, a gentleman came out, and advanced along the passage toward him. When about ten paces distant, he stopped, turned back, and departed hastily in the opposite direction.
But Bellingham had recognized him; it was Mr. Randolph.

The incident made little impression on him, however. He turned to the looking for the number, but finding was going the wrong way he his steps, and presently fo-standing before the door 1.
Mr. Randolph had just issued.
Mlle. Marana's number. He k-and Munc. Demax opened to his inquiring whether the were engaged, the lady
see. So he walked in, an-window, and in a few min-Marana appeared. She greeted such evidently spontaneous pi-that any slight misgiving he may felt was immediately dissipated.

"I began to think you were never going to come," she said.

"I'm so much out of the way of making calls that I'm surprised to find myself here. You have a great many callers?"

"Well, a good many come, but I see very few—only old friends. And of course," she added, "as I never was in New York before, that is the same as saying I see hardly any one."

"I met a man lately who knows you, I think—Mr. Randolph."

"Mr. Randolph?" She pronounced the name in a changed tone and blushed.

"Alexander Randolph," he repeated, looking at her.

She dropped her eyes. "I—believe—I have heard his name," she said.

Bellingham said no more; he felt dismayed and bewildered. Undoubtedly there was some unpleasant mystery about this fellow Randolph. "Heard his name," indeed! Had not the man been in her company five minutes ago?

"I saw you at the opera last night," remarked the prima donna, recovering herself. Bellingham merely nodded.
"Were you disappointed?" she asked falteringly.

"No, I was like the rest of the audience," he replied in a dry tone.

"You are not like the rest of the audience to me," she said, "ever since the first night I have sung to you. I wouldn't tell you, only—I thought you knew it."

"I know nothing about you," returned Bellingham roughly.

"You speak as if you didn't care to know anything," she said holding up her head.

Bellingham controlled his rising temper. A weaker man would have protected himself by irony or sarcasm, but he said exactly what he thought. "I care more about what concerns you," he said, "than about anything else. But I will not look away when I am being deceived. You and this Randolph are both pretending to be strangers to each other I saw him come out of this room just before I came into it. Do you deny that he was here?"

"He was here," answered she, turning pale.

"There is only one other question. Are you going to marry him?"

This was so unexpected that she laughed. It was a nervous, almost hysterical laugh, it is true, but Bellingham naturally did not understand it. "I am not going to marry Mr. Randolph," said the prima donna, with a heartbroken sense of humor.

"And you will not tell me what your relations are with him?"

"No; they are very peculiar relations," she replied lightly, for she was getting desperate. "You must think what you please—think the worst you can, it makes no difference. I will tell you nothing!"

Bellingham gazed at her fixedly. "I cannot believe that you are a wicked woman," he exclaimed at length. "I don't know how to believe it! Why did you deceive me? I was ready to take it for granted that you were—like other women on the stage. But you made me believe you were pure and innocent. No woman ever acted innocence before as you have done it. You look like innocence incarnate at this moment—at the actual moment you are admitting. What is it you want? I would have asked you to marry me—as soon as I had persuaded myself you loved me. I loved you with all my heart and soul. Did you merely intend to lead me on, and then refuse me, like a common flirt? Or would you have married me and still kept up your relations with—well, I can't talk about it! There is always some motive even in the lightest wickedness, but I can see none in yours—and yours is not light!"

Mr. Marana was standing erect of twilight rose. Bellingham looked toward the east, and saw the disk of the moon mount above the horizon, until the whole round sphere swung aloft, orange against the violet background. The evening was mild and still, but the lethargy which had fallen upon Bellingham began to be dispelled: he became restless and anxious. He could no longer stay where he was; he descended the little hill, crossed over to the avenue, and still going northward came to the bank of the Hudson. The bank was high and steep; he clambered down it, and found the remains of a decayed wooden pier jutting out into the water. Upon the end of this he sat down, and the silent current swept and eddied past his feet. The sound of a clock striking somewhere caught his ear. This was the hour for her to arrive at the theatre. A little while longer and she would be upon the stage. Would she look toward his seat, expecting to see him there? No, she would never expect him again! Would she miss him?

More than another hour passed away, and Bellingham sat so still that one might have fancied he was asleep. But he was not asleep—he was thinking, and now his thoughts were becoming clearer and more consecutive than they had heretofore been. The moon had now soared high aloft, and stood silvery bright above the sliding reaches of the river.

All at once Bellingham sprang to his feet. He pulled out his watch; there was yet time. He began hurriedly to climb the bank.

It had been borne in upon him, he knew not how, with a sudden, overwhelming conviction, that she was not guilty, but pure and true; that the mystery was an innocent one, that all would be well, if he could but see her and speak to her. It was possible for him to reach the theatre before she left it, but he must use diligence. He was somewhat faint from lack of nourishment during the day, but he ran on until he came to a station of the elevated railway. He entered a train and was off. His heart was light and hopeful.

The train halted at a station near the rear of the theatre. As he got out he twisting her lace handkerchief between her hands, her face pale, her eyes wide open, tearful, full of restless light. She never looked at him. It seemed physically impossible for her to do so.

"I have never been spoken to like this," she said, in a faint, panting voice. "Will you leave me, please? Will you leave me?"

Bellingham moved to depart, but he stopped and turned back.

"I have always meant never to be unjust to any human being," said he. "It is impossible that the very love I felt for you may have made me unjust to you. If you can tell me that there is nothing disgraceful in this secret of yours—tell me, for God's sake! Are you what you seem or something else?"

"I am not what I seem!" she cried out passionately; and now she looked at him with a blaze of fierceness in her eyes. "You have doubted me, and that is enough. I will never explain—I will never forgive you! If you are a man do not stand there; go out!"

Bellingham was shaken to the bottom of his soul. The voice and manner with which her every word was uttered seemed to contradict the purport of the words themselves. Even yet he could not but believe her innocent. But there was nothing further for him to do or say. He went out.

He descended the stairs slowly and emerged into the street. It was the middle of the day; the avenue was comparatively deserted. A few carriages were taking their occupants home to luncheon. Bellingham stood on the curbstone, looking up and down, and vaguely wondering what he should do next. By and by it struck him that it would not make much difference which way he went. In no place in the world could he find what he had lost. It was nowhere; it had been annihilated. All that had made life delightful was gone from him, and he was left ironically behind, had never really possessed it, even as a mirage—a phantom, which he tried to grasp, and it had vanished, the strangest part of the business—most ludicrous—was that he remained blind, standing here; alive and well, sunshine on Fifth avenue!

He entered leisurely northward toward the city. Two or three times he stopped, as he knew, and returned with a nod. But all the while that lithe, erect figure, that pale, lovely face, her eyes bright with pain or anger, her white hands twisting her handkerchief. Could it be that she was depraved, false, heartless? Every stern word he had spoken had been echoed, as it were by the exquisite sensitiveness of her beauty. If she were false would she not have been true at that last moment, when nothing more was to be gained by deception, when to be sincere was essential to the enjoyment of the triumph her falsehood had gained her.

He reached the park; there was still a vivid greenness in the grass, though the trees were rich with the splendor of autumn. He wandered along the curving paths, feeling no pleasure, but pain, in the quiet beauty that surrounded him. Keeping to the left, where there seemed to be fewer saunterers like himself, he found himself at last near the extreme northern limit. He ascended a little hill, and on its summit, beneath the golden shade of a group of trees, there was a space of leaf strewn turf on which he flung himself down. The rumble of the horse cars on the avenue came faintly to his ears, and now and then the voices of laughter of people passing at a distance; the shadow of passing clouds drifted over him, and ever and anon a golden leaf detached itself from a bough above his head and floated wavering earthward. But no one disturbed him, though he lay there all the afternoon, sometimes with his face buried on his arms, sometimes supporting his head upon his hand. He wondered what she had been doing since they parted. Had she been laughing over his discomfiture and planning fresh enterprises? It was not possible!

The sun went down and the shadows the audience had dispersed. But she would not have left yet. No; there was her carriage waiting for her at the stage door.

He ran down the iron staircase, but as he reached the bottom he stopped. Mlle. Marana came out of the stage door, leaning upon the arm of a man—of Mr. Randolph. Mrs. Benax followed, but entered the carriage first. Randolph appeared to exchange a few words with the prima donna; then she turned and put her foot on the carriage step.

But, as if swayed by a sudden and uncontrollable impulse, she turned again and threw her arms about Randolph's neck and kissed him again and again. Bellingham saw this, and then he faced about and mounted the iron stairs once more, while a mocking voice in his heart seemed to ask, "Are you satisfied now?"

The Mortgage.

He bought in 1665 a farm of stumps and stones, His name was God he glorified, his surname was Jones, He put a mortgage on the farm, and then in conscious pride, "In twenty years I'll pay it up," said God Be Glorified.

The mortgage had a hungry maw that swallowed corn and wheat, He toiled with patience night and day to let the monster eat; He slowly worked himself to death, and on the calm hillside They laid, beyond the monster's reach, good God Be Glorified.

And the farm with its encumbrances of mortgage, stumps, and stones, It fell to young Melchizedek Paul Adoniram Jones; Melchizedek was a likely youth a holy godly man, And he vowed to raise that mortgage like a noble Puritan.

And he went forth every morning to the rugged mountain side, And he dug, as dug before him old God Be Glorified; He raised pumpkins and potatoes down the monster's throat to pour; He gulped them down and smacked his jaws and calmly asked for more.

He worked until his back was bent, until his hair was gray; On the hillside through a snowdrift they dug his grave one day! His first-born son, Elihalet, had no time to weep and brood, For the monster by his doorstep growled forever for his food.

He fed him on his garden truck, he stuffed his ribs with hay, And he fed him eggs and butter, but he would not go away; And Elihalet he staggered with the burden and then died, And slept with old Melchizedek and God Be Glorified.

Then the farm fell to Thomas, and from Thomas fell to John, Then from John to Eleazar, but the mortgage still lived on; Then it fell to Ralph and Peter, Eli, Absalom and Paul; Down through all the generations, but the mortgage killed them all!

About a score of years ago the farm came down to Jim, And Jim called in the mortgage and gave the farm to him. There's no human heart so empty that it has no ray of hope, So Jim gave up the ancient farm and went to making soap.

He grew a fifty millionaire, a bloated, pampered nature, He owned ten railroads, twenty mines, and the whole State Legislature; And thousands did his gruff commands, and lived upon his bounty; And he came home, bought back the farm, and the entire county.

SELF APPLICATION OF ELECTRICITY FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES, BY THE DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT AND ATTACHMENTS.

THE WORLD'S BEST All diseases curable by electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend appliances. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electricity Belt made which fulfills the requirements of electro-medical science. It is a complete Body Battery, it has an independent battery, which generates a mild continuous current of electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man, or the weakest child. It is a Current of Quantity, not merely a sensation current and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for Indigestion, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Liver and Kidney Troubles, Weak Back, Spinal Disease, Heart Trouble, Nervous Debility, Paralysis, Vertigo, Female Complaints, Impotence, Sexual Decline, and all Diseases of the Nervous and Muscular systems.

Remember that the Dorenwend Belt is the very latest invention in this line. It was invented by a competent electrician and ranks at the best in the world. We defy any one to bring proof to the contrary. Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experience with cheap useless articles buy them, but if you want to procure a genuine electric belt, and get the benefit of it, get a Dorenwend Belt. Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro medical treatment and mention this paper. The Dorenwend Electric Belt and Attachments, C. H. Dorenwend, Electrician, 69 Yonge Street, Toronto, Canada. The Dorenwend Belt is the only one that will stand expert examination. Others keep clear of it, while we solicit it.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

THE NEWFOUNDLAND QUESTION AGAIN CONSIDERED.

Mrs. O'Shea Hired the Houses Fed Her self to the Bears—The Queen at a Wedding The New Chief Rabbi of the British Empire.

LONDON, June 23.—Sir James Ferguson, Political Secretary of the Foreign Office, replying to a question in the House of Commons to-day in regard to the progress of the Newfoundland arbitration, said that when the Newfoundland agreement was made with France both governments made the reservation that the agreements were subject to the approval of their respective Parliaments before the arrangement could be put into execution. The French government, Sir James Ferguson explained, had as yet only obtained the approval of the Senate, and until now had abstained from bringing the agreement before the Chamber of Deputies. Her Majesty's Government, said Sir James in conclusion, was doing all it could possibly do to expedite the matter.

Kitty Hired the Houses.

CORK, June 23.—The action for libel brought by Henry Campbell, M.P. and private secretary to Mr. Parnell, against Aldermen John Hooper and Mrs. Eliza Nagle, as owners of The Cork Daily Herald, was continued to-day. Mr. Campbell complains of a statement made by The Herald that, while other members of Parliament were attending to their duties, Campbell was hiring houses for immoral purposes for Parnell.

Counsel for The Herald to-day contended that, if Campbell did not telegraph about hiring the house at Eastbourne, Parnell did so.

Mr. Vinal, a real estate agent, deposed that letters (produced in court) which were signed by Campbell's name were really in Mrs. O'Shea's handwriting.

Mr. Campbell recalled said he had never heard of the letters or telegrams until this action was brought.

TARTE INVESTIGATION.

ANOTHER BATCH OF WITNESSES BEFORE THE COMMITTEE.

An Exciting Incident During the Examination of Mr. Larkin—A Letter That Must be Produced in Order that the Members of the Committee May Judge of its Relevancy.

OTTAWA, June 23.—The Tarte-McGreewy investigation was continued before the Privileges and Elections Committee. The first witness called was Mr. Gobeil, Deputy Minister of Public Works. Examined by Mr. Geoffrion, this witness testified that the drawback or deposit of $50,000 on the Esquimaux harbor was reduced to $30,000. Mr. Gobeil occupied some time in examining the correspondence between Mr. Perley, the chief engineer of the department, and Mr. Trutch, the Dominion Government agent at Victoria. A telegram of April 20, 1885, from Mr. Perley to Mr. Trutch, was to inform the latter that since alterations had been made from the original contract by the contractors, Larkin, Connolly & Co., no extras would be allowed by the Government. Again on April 20 Mr. Perley wrote to Mr. Trutch, asking him whether he had received his telegrams, and informing him that the contractors were complaining of the enforcement of the terms of the contract. Again a similar letter went to Mr. Trutch informing him that the contractors were pressing for money and he (Mr. Perley) asked for particulars as to the progress of the work. On May 2, 1885, Mr. Perley wrote to Mr. Trutch, saying that he had informed Mr. Connolly that he would sanction no changes without the consent of the Government agent. To him (Perley) the changes were unobjectionable, but he could not act on his own authority. On May 4 a telegram and a letter were sent to Mr. Trutch from Mr. Perley, allowing the contractors to use larger stones according to the estimate of Mr. Hume.

Mr. Geoffrion: Who is Mr. Hume?

Mr. Gobeil: According to common report he is the private engineer of Larkin, Connolly & Co.

A lengthy letter from Mr. Trutch to Mr. Perley, dated May 11, 1885, was then read. It stated that in reference to the alterations

THE BUDGET SPEECH.

THE DUTY ON RAW SUGAR REMOVED.

Refined Also Cut Down About One-Half—The Three and a Half Million Deficit to be Made Up by Increased Duties on Malt, Spirits and Tobacco.

OTTAWA, June 23.—Mr. Foster made his Budget Speech this afternoon. After reviewing the general condition of the country he said he had the pleasure of announcing a surplus of $2,130,000. The only tariff change was one which met with general acceptance from both sides of the House. Three and one half millions of taxes were taken off sugar and the deficit made up by increased taxation on malt, spirits and tobacco. Mr. Foster said the business of the past year had not been so good as expected, but the prospects for the coming year were of the brightest. There had been the gratifying increase of $11,000,000 in the trade with Great Britain over 1880. On the whole, the home trade was in a healthy condition. Interprovincial trade was steadily increasing, mining activity had increased and the good results of the iron bounties were seen in increased production in some districts. Immigration was not so heavy as could be wished but was of a satisfactory class. Our credit abroad stood as high as in previous years. Our securities stood better than those of the sister colonies. We were a happy, progressive, right-minded people with hopeful regard for the future and full of progress at the present. Two steamship lines were well established with the West Indies. The Pacific steamers had begun their trade. They had endeavored to establish a fast Atlantic service and had entered into a provisional agreement. This, however, fell through owing to the disorganization of the money market and the death of the controlling genius, Bryce Doug-

The Queen at a Wedding.

LONDON, June 23.—The marriage of Miss Alberta Ponsonby, goddaughter of the Queen and daughter of Sir Henry and the Hon. Lady Ponsonby, to Major and Lieutenant Colonel W. E. Montgomery of the Scots Fusilier Guards took place at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Wellington Barracks Chapel on Bird Cage Walk, opposite St. James' Park. VICTORIA, N. S. W., June 23.—The Governor of New South Wales, the Earl of Jersey, in opening Parliament yesterday, announced that bills would be introduced to abolish plural voting and to enfranchise women.

Chat From Over The Sea.

Despatches from Tiflis, the capital of Russian Transcaucasia, state that a band of brigands, 17 in number, recently attacked and robbed a mail coach near the village of Saljan, killing two travelers and severely wounding a postilion. The brigands then attacked and pillaged the village of Saljan and escaped with the booty secured. A squadron of Cossacks has been sent in pursuit of the outlaws.

The editor of The Moscow Illustrated Gazette fired with a revolver at the editor of The Vedomosti. The shot missed the man for whom it was intended, but killed the latter's companion, a journalist named Sibirakoff.

Interesting Experiments.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The last agricultural appropriation act contained an appropriation of $7000 to be used in experiments in the production of rainfall. The department will test the theory that heavy explosions cause rain. Last evening a balloon sent up in the northern suburbs was exploded with great violence amid the clouds. Whether the downpour of rain later was caused by the explosion remains to be determined. The department will try the experiment on a larger scale.

Lost a $700 Diamond Ring.

MONTREAL, June 23.—The wife of the manager of a well-known express company had occasion to leave Toronto for Montreal. She took a sleeper. When some 30 miles from Montreal she went to the toilet room to wash. On her third finger she wore a $700 diamond ring, and while washing her hands the soap loosened the ring, which slipped from her finger and rolled into the washbasin and down the water pipe to the track below. Sectionmen have since searched for the ring, but without success.

The Bundesrath has now ordered his immediate surrender to Italy.

Fatal Accident at Toronto.

The "Fat Boy" Guide Dead.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 23.—E. J. Babage, known as the "fat boy," a celebrated guide to the St. Lawrence River, fell dead at Alexandria Bay. Thousand Islands, to-day.

any powers were given to Mr. Bennett, the resident engineer, but that he (Mr. Trutch) had the sole responsibility. Seven days later Mr. Trutch wrote Mr. Perley, stating that Mr. Bennett placed before him certain plans showing changes in the contract. He was also apprised by Mr. Perley that these changes were sanctioned by the department, but that no extra charges would be allowed, and particularly no extras would be allowed for the substitution of large for smaller stones.

Mr. Geoffrion instructed the witness to search for these plans made by Bennett, showing change in the contract, and also to produce if possible before the committee all correspondence relating to the requests for the dismissal of Mr. Bennett from the Government employ.

Witness read a letter from Mr. Perley to Mr. Trutch, dated June 18, 1885, in which the latter was informed that Sir Hector Langevin directed that the contractors be allowed the full quantity of stone in the caisson recess, and that all the stone be fairly and liberally measured and also that the stone may be substituted for brick.

Mr. Geoffrion: Do you find any letter from Mr. Bennett to Mr. Trutch recommending these changes?

Witness searched several minutes and answered, "No."

Several unimportant letters and telegrams were then produced and identified.

Mr. Perley was then briefly examined. He identified the letters written by him and referred to by the other witnesses. He said that he had no correspondence received in his capacity as engineer to the Quebec Harbor Commission, but he had under his control all correspondence received as engineer to the department. He promised to produce all this correspondence to-morrow.

Mr. Larkin was next sworn. He said that he had been in the habit of destroying his correspondence at the end of each year, therefore he could not produce all letters between himself and other members of the firm or the department. He had some of the correspondence, however, at the hotel in this city and would produce it to-morrow.

Mr. Geoffrion showed the witness an unsigned letter addressed to "O. E. Murphy," and asked if it was in his (Larkin's) handwriting.

Mr. Henry, Q.C., objected. He submitted that it was not evidence.

The chairman overruled the objections, and the witness swore that he was the writer of that letter. It was not signed, he said, because it was not complete. A page had been lost.

Mr. Tarte explained that the letter was just as he received it.

Mr. Edgar: Let me see that letter.

Mr. Henry objected to the letter being read.

Mr. Edgar stepped up to the table and took the document amid protestations from the defendant's counsel.

Mr. Tarte: That letter is my property and the gentleman can read it if he wishes.

Mr. Mills: I submit, Mr. Chairman, that this is an inquisitorial as well as judicial committee, and the members cannot judge of the relevancy of that letter until they have read it for themselves.

The Chairman then ordered all strangers from the room, and the remainder of the sitting was with closed doors. It was decided that the different letters asked to be put in by Mr. Geoffrion and objected to by the other side would be deposited with the clerk of the committee, not for publication and only accessible by members of the committee.

Your correspondent learned that the letter from Larkin was in answer to a call on him for a donation of $5000. The donations were as already explained by Murphy for Thomas McGreevy and his friends.

Mr. Larkin objected to this call, stating that they were coming too often, and the first thing the firm would know, if they were continued, that the only thing left for themselves would be the old plant.

Earthquake at Charleston.

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 23.—A slight shock of earthquake occurred here at 11.35 last night. There was a distinct boom and shock. No damage was done, and the earthquake was so light that it escaped the notice of half of the population.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 23.—Slight shocks of earthquake were felt last evening at Pasadena and San Ferdinand, a few miles from here.

The McKinley Bill had been looked upon with apprehension by many business interests. So far as he could see the people of Canada and its different industrial interests had stood the strain well and were far less harmed than had been anticipated. In one respect it was an advantage rather than otherwise, because it threw Canadians on their own mettle and energy. Shortly after the passage of the McKinley bill he had sent a man to the Old Country to investigate the possibilities of the egg trade. The result was that an unlimited market for eggs was found with a continually progressive demand. What was true regarding eggs could be found true of other products.

Trade With the United States.

The answer this country received this year from the United States regarding trade was different from any answer received since 1860. Under the invitation of Secretary of State Blaine, delegates from Canada went to Washington to have an informal conference and talk over the conditions and possibilities of trade. At the desire and at the express wish of the United States Cabinet the President of the United States asked for the postponement of the informal conference and to meet at a formal conference in Washington. This was the first intimation for a long series of years that the United States was willing to come to a fair trade arrangement. This Government holds itself ready to meet the United States in a fair and equitable position, and with a serious desire to remove causes of friction and to give whatever free trade is compatible with the interests of each country. More than that no self-respecting government should be asked to do. He was unwilling to go so far as to shut out trade with Britain. He was not willing for the sake of present advantages to forego the advantages arising from a long connection with the Mother Country. He was willing to enter into trade relations with the United States so far as consistent with the best interests of each country and consistent with its remaining a part of the Empire—no further. He did not despair that after the conference in October trade relations would be found to be on a better footing.

Savings Bank Deposits.

During the year 1888-90 there was a new reduction of two millions in the deposits in the Government savings banks. This was not a loss to the country but merely a transfer to the banks. The total savings 1880 were $176,000,000; in 1890, $177,000,000; and in 1891, $190,500,000. This was a local increase in savings deposits over 1889 of $16,000,000, which was due to the fact that the banks, especially Bank of Montreal, had established savings banks. It was necessary to resort to temporary loans to meet the withdrawals. These were $400,000 in June, 1890, at 4 per cent. for 12 months, and $200,000 in December, 1890, at 4½ per cent. for 6 months.

Revenue and Expenditure.

Mr. Foster then presented his statement of revenue and expenditure, actual and estimated. In 1889-90 the actual expenditure was $35,994,031; revenue, $30,870,925; surplus, $3,885,803. Capital expenditure $5,731,354; net debt, $237,333,211. The addition to debt was $3,170,000, against $2,998,083 in 1889 and $7,216,583 in 1888. The net rate of interest was 2.99 per cent. against 3.07 and 3.12 the years before. The average interest for capital of the national debt was $1.65, against $1.74 and $1.79 in the years before. The estimated revenue for the year ending June 30, 1891, was $39,200,000; received up to June 30, 1891, $36,002,357; revised estimate, $39,350,000. The decrease will probably be $350,000. The estimated expenditures for 1891 are: Expenditure to June 20, 1891, $30,240,329; add expenditure from June 20 to June 30, 1890, $5,619,427, and probable extraordinary expenditure over the ten-day period in 1891, $345,000. The total probable expenditure for 1890-91 is $36,213,737. The surplus for 1890-91 will probably be $2,136,243. The capital expenditure will be $2,300,000.

With regard to the revenue for 1891-92 Mr. Foster said certain tariff changes would effect it, but as near as he could estimate it would be $37,300,000.

The Tariff Changes.

Mr. Foster dealt last with the most interesting part of his subject, the tariff changes. A considerable number of changes had been pressed upon him, but last year there was an extended revision of the tariff. The present session would probably be short and hot and there were important commercial negotiations with the United States.

ed Sta. For these reasons the Government decided to make no general revision this year. A change, however, would be made regarding one article—sugar. The course of the sugar industry in this country had been remarkable and separated clearly both political parties. In 1878 there were imported 109,000,000 pounds, worth $6,180,000 to the outside world, on which the cost was $2,595,000, or 41 per cent. The cost was 5.65 cents a pound and the duty 2.37 cents a pound. But only 6 per cent. of this was raw, the rest was refined in other countries. There was therefore a comparatively small consumption, a high price, a high duty and a lack of sugar industries in this country. Next year a change was made. In 1880 there were 116,000,000 pounds imported, worth $4,000,000, duty $2,000,000, price 3.35 cents a pound, duty 1.73 cents a pound. But 68 per cent. was raw and refined in this country. Only 32 per cent. of refined was imported. In 1889 there were imported 223,841,171 pounds, worth $5,800,000 to the outside world, price 2.42 cents a pound, duty 1.58 cents a pound. Only 7 per cent. of the importation was refined, 93 per cent. was raw and refined in this country. The result of the Conservative policy therefore was that a decreased burden was paid the outside world, the sugar was cheaper, the duty was lower and the industry was established in our own country. Last year 223,400,000 pounds were consumed on which the duty was $3,075,724. If sugar was placed on the free list this serious loss of revenue must be faced. The duty collected on sugar for the past three years averaged three and a half millions per year. The Government has decided under two conditions to sweep away at a stroke of the pen three millions and a half of taxes. [Loud cheers.] Sir Richard Cartwright: "Let us hear your conditions." Mr. Foster said the conditions were greater economy in public expenditure and compensating duties to a certain extent. They would ask an additional cent a pound on malt, which would add three cents to the value of every gallon of beer and result in an increase of $500,000 to the revenue on last year's consumption. They would add 20 cents a gallon to the duty on distilled spirits, which would add $600,000 to the revenue. They would increase the excise and import duty on tobacco and raise an additional revenue by $1,500,000. The remainder of the deficit would be met by economy in public works.

Mr. Foster then presented to the House the resolutions containing the tariff changes, which come into force June 24. He added a few explanations. The duty on salt, which was 10 and 15 cents per 100 pounds, was reduced one-half because combines had formed under the excessive protection. During the past few years a great change had taken place in the sugar industry. At the present time 65 per cent. of the world's consumption was beet root sugar. Spasmodic attempts had been made to introduce it into Canada, but so far unsuccessful. He was not there to say he believed in the introduction of the bounty system to make beet root sugar a success. But one or two factories were already established in Quebec and it appeared a hardship to take off all the protection they now enjoyed. The Government therefore recommended that for one year, but no longer, a bounty should be paid beet root sugar equal to the protection it now has. He declared emphatically that he was not there committing himself to the principle of the bounty system. It was for this season only.

THE ALTERED DUTIES.

The Changes in Malt, Sugar, Tobacco and Other Commodities.

Resolved—That it is expedient to amend the act chapter 33, Revised Statutes, intitled "An Act respecting the department of customs," by repealing the items numbered 9, 10, 400, 410, 420, 421, 422, 423, 431, in schedule 8 of the said act and to amend the act 50-51 Victoria, chapter 39, intitled "An Act to amend the act respecting the duties of customs," by repealing the items numbered 126, 127, 128, under section 1 of the said act, and to amend the act 53 Victoria, chapter 20, intitled "An Act to amend the act respecting the duties of customs," by repealing the items 148, 156, 157, 158, 159, 165 and 166 under section 10 of the said act, and to provide otherwise by enacting that the rates of duty be substituted in and syrups, n.o.p., inclinations and tank washings, all concentrated cane juice and all molasses and concentrated molasses, n.e.s., all cane juice, beet root juice, tank bottoms and concrete when not imported direct without transshipment—5 per cent. ad valorem, provided, however, that in the case of cane sugar produced in the East Indies and imported via Hong Kong such rate of 5 per cent. ad valorem shall not be collected if transhipped at Hong Kong.

2. All cane sugars and beet root sugars not above 14 Dutch standard, all sugar sweepings, all sugar drainings, all melado and concentrated melado, all molasses and concentrated molasses, n.e.s., all cane juice, beet root juice, tank bottoms and concrete when not imported direct without transshipment—5 per cent. ad valorem, provided, however, that in the case of cane sugar produced in the East Indies and imported via Hong Kong such rate of 5 per cent. ad valorem shall not be collected if transhipped at Hong Kong.

3. All sugar above 14 Dutch standard and refined sugars of all kinds, grades and standards and all sugar syrups derived from refined sugars—a specific duty of 8-10 per cent. per pound.

4. Glucose or grape sugar, glucose or corn syrup—specific duty of 1½ cents per pound.

5. Cut tobacco—45 cents per pound and 12½ per cent. ad valorem.

6. Manufactured tobacco, n.e.s. and snuff—35 cents per pound and 12½ per cent. ad valorem.

7. Ale, beer and porter when imported in casks or otherwise, not in bottles—15 cents per gallon.

8. Ale, beer and porter when imported in bottles (6 quart or 12 pint bottles to be held to contain 1 gallon)—21 cents per gallon.

9. Spirituous or alcoholic liquors distilled from any material and containing or compounded from or with distilled spirits of any kind and any mixture thereof with water for every gallon thereof of the strength of proof, and when of a greater strength than that of proof at the same rate on the increased quantity as there would be if the liquors a quart and more than a pint, $3 and 80 cents per dozen; bottles containing not more than a pint and more than one-half pint—$1.05 per dozen, one-half pint each or less—82 cents; per dozen bottles containing more than one quart shall pay in addition to $3.30 per dozen bottles at the rate of $1.05 per gallon on the quantity in excess of one quart per bottle, old wine measure. In addition to the above specific duty there shall be an ad valorem duty of 30 per cent.

11. Salt, coarse, 5 cents per 100 pounds (not to include salt imported from the United Kingdom or any British possession, nor salt imported for the use of the sea or gulf fisheries, which shall be free of duty—5 cents per 100 pounds.

12. Salt, fine, in bulk—5 cents per 100 pounds.

13. Salt in bags, barrels or other packages—7½ cents per 100 pounds. The packages to bear the same duty as if imported empty.

Resolved—That it is expedient to provide that there be added to schedule C to the Act chapter 33, Revised Statutes, as being exempt from customs duties the following, viz:

All cane sugars and beet root sugars not above No. 14 Dutch standard in color, all sugar sweepings, all sugar drainings or the pumpings drained in transit, all melado and concentrated melado, all molasses and concentrated molasses, n.o.p., all cane juice and concentrated cane juice, etc., when imported direct without transshipment from the country of growth and production.

Resolved—That it is expedient to provide that the foregoing resolutions and the alterations thereby made in the duties of customs on the articles therein mentioned shall take effect on and after the 24th day of June, 1894.

Provided, however, that nothing herein shall be construed as exempting any sugars now held to be in bond for refining purposes in any bonded premises connected with or occupied in whole or in part by any sugar refiner which may be found on examination of the stock in such premises to have been removed therefrom, from payment of the duty properly payable thereon under item 419 in schedule A to the Act chapter 33, Revised Statutes, which shall continue in force as regards such sugar until proper entry thereof and payment of duty thereon has been made.

Resolved—That it is expedient to amend the Act chapter 33, Rev. Statutes, intitled under an act respecting the customs, of repealing section 94, respecting the refining in bond of sugar, molasses or other material from which refined sugar can be produced.

Resolved—That it is expedient to provide that under such regulations and restrictions as may be by the Minister of Customs deemed necessary, there may be paid to the producers of any raw beet sugar produced in Canada wholly from beets grown therein between July 1, 1891, and July 1, 1892, a bounty equal to $1 per 100 pounds, and in addition 3½ cents per 100 pounds for each degree or fraction of degree over 70 degrees.

AN AMENDMENT.

Sir Richard Cartwright's Exhaustive Reply to Foster.

Sir Richard Cartwright spoke for over three hours. He said it would strike the House as curious that after the declaration of the Government that it intended to follow its own path irrespective of any United States legislation by far its most important fiscal act was done in obedience to and at the dictation of the United States Government. Why was the duty on raw sugar abolished? Because the United States Government enacted similar legislation about a year ago. After a general condemnation of the extravagance of the Government, he moved in amendment to Mr. Foster's motion to go into committee to consider the resolution:

That the Speaker do not leave the chair, but that it be resolved that the Government should forthwith reduce all duties on articles of prime necessity, and more particularly on those most generally consumed by artisans, fishermen, miners and farmers, and further that the negotiations which the House has been informed are to be opened in Washington in October should be conducted on the basis of the most extended reciprocal trade between Canada and the United States in manufactured as well as natural products.

Sir Richard withdrew his amendment temporarily to allow the passage of the resolutions in order to facilitate public business. The resolutions were then passed pro forma. Sir Richard's amendment will be discussed on Thursday.

MATHEWS RUBBER DUCK PUMP COMES TO

the front as the best pump, and for the least money of any pump ever put on the market. They never freeze. They work easier. They throw water faster than any other pump. They will keep a well clean by pumping out any sediment that settles to the bottom. Being constructed on right principles, they purify the water in the act of pumping. If other pumps do, if you have a well of water that tastes sour, or has any other unnatural taste try one of these pumps and if it does not correct it I will give you the pump—it will give you better water than can be got with the old oaken bucket. They never need priming. Being they are always ready to give you a part of the best water the well affords. A child can turn a well of water into a running stream. I am also offering to the public the Mathews Swing Churn, which is far superior to any other yet invented, for the following reasons:—It is the easiest to operate; it is the easiest to clean and handle; its movements are such that it allows the cream to be thoroughly separated every oscillation of the churn and all impurities are carried out, which is very important in making gilt edge butter. They will churn as quick as any other churn and leave your butter in the best possible shape to wax and salt without removing it from the churn. Now the most essential thing in the making of good butter is pure water for the chemist tells us that 20 per cent of milk is water and to get pure water it is necessary to use the Mathews pump in preference to any other. The next most essential thing is the right kind of a churn. Now farmers we have them both, just what you need. Try one of each, if they suit you buy them. They are sold on trial and warranted to give you a receipt, but until you see them. Men or my agent will call on you as soon as possible. Manufactured by R. W. MATHEWS, Ficton, Ont. For sale by

It is not every day you get an offer of this kind, so turn out and embrace the opportunity of this holiday trip.

PRESENTATION.—On Friday, of last week, the Rev. S. J. Shorey and Mrs. Shorey were much surprised by a presentation from the congregation of Charlotte street Methodist church, Peterborough. A reunion was held on the evening of the day mentioned, the principal objects of which were to present to the departing minister and his wife two very pleasantly worded addresses, accompanied by substantial tokens of regard. To Mrs. Shorey was presented a very handsome piano lamp, and to Mr. Shorey a beautiful gold watch, inscribed on the inner case, "Presented to Rev. S. J. Shorey, by the Charlotte street Methodist church, June 19th, 1891," and a monogram on the outside "S. J. S."

SUCCESSORS TO DOWNEY & CO.

The man who never makes mistakes misses a good many splendid chances to learn something.

Rain fell in copious showers last Saturday and Sunday, the country looking greatly refreshed.

The residence of Mr. G. M. Beeman has been beautified by the addition of a porch in the front.

The Napanee River logs of the Rathbun Co. have all been rafted out and delivered at Deseronto.

W. J. Petrie, late of Newburgh, has gone to Windsor Mills to accept a position in the Canadian paper company.

The son of James Woods, of Hastings, was accidentally shot by the discharge of a gun in the hands of Walter Fowler.

It is said that every night a light has appeared on Mink Lake opposite the former home of the murdered man, Dunlop.

In several churches last Sunday thanks were returned to God for "the blessed showers sent to water the dry and thirsty earth."

The steamer North King made nine miles in thirty-four minutes on her trial trip. Captain Nicholson is proud of his charge.

Captain John Gowan, of Deseronto, who has been on a visit to Ireland, returned home last week after an absence of two months.

Mrs. E. Cox, an old and respected resident of Enterprise, died suddenly last Saturday morning at the age of seventy-eight years.

The Princess street baseball club may, if arrangements can be made, play the Independents, of Cobourg, at Napanee on the first of July.

Long trains, laden with logs for the Rathbun Company, continue to go over the K. N. & W. Ry. from the Mississippi river via Harrowsmith.

Messrs. W. H. Hurst and P. D. Burdette, of the K. N. & W., have received notice that they will be stationed at Deseronto in future.

Mr. Edward Doidge of West Plain, while working on a barn met with a severe accident, cutting his knee with a hand axe. The knee is doing very nicely.

Miss Lilly Randall, at one time a resident of Picton, scored a great triumph at a musical entertainment given by herself and pupils at Crown Point, Indiana.

There is much whispering and a constant buzz of conversation among the ladies these days, a sure indication that more weddings may be expected.

Farmers complain of a small worm which eats away the roots of the most thrifty cabbages. Who is the first to find out a remedy against this destructive pest?

Mr. R. McD. Smith, Deseronto, has a deep gash cut in his head by a piece of iron hoop while working at the Terra Cotta works. Dr. Holdcroft dressed the wound.

The interior of the Masonic lodges throughout Canada will be draped for the next three months, out of respect to the late Premier, who was a member of the craft.

Mr. Roblin, of Roblin in the Reach, shot a turkey buzzard one day last week. This bird is seldom found farther north than Massachusetts, it being a denizen of the south.

Messrs. Connolly, of Kingston, the owners of the tug Gordon, are being sued by the owners of the schooner Kate for $200, the amount of damage by a collision last fall near Picton.

William Hubbs, who was convicted of assaulting a girl named Dafeo, with intent to commit indecent assault, was sentenced by Judge Lazier, at Belleville, to one year in the Central prison.

Sixteen cents per pound is the highest price paid for good wool this season. The reduction in price is due to the high tariff. If it were not for the duty, the price would be about 30 cents per lb.

Hay is reported to be worth $14 per ton in Belleville, and $12 per ton in Deseronto. Oswego market reports quote hay at $12 a ton. Owing to the prolonged drought the price advanced $4 per ton during last week in the state of New York.

The bay is at present so full of shad that bass and pickerel refuse to bite the most tempting bait. Fishermen in Prince Edward are netting the shad and extracting the oil from them, which sells at 50c per gallon. A short time ago a couple of fishermen obtained 120 gallons in one day. This will somewhat help to diminish the large number always found on the beach in a dead or dying condition.

In the ankle giving him a severe bruise which the Doctor who was passing at the time says will lay him up for some time and may cripple him for life.

The ministers have given Hulet such large orders for photos that it has been impossible for him to get out the conference group yet, but it will be out shortly. He has received many compliments from the ministers who are delighted with their photographs and are duplicating their orders as an appreciation of first class work.

EASTERN METHODIST CHURCH.—Rev. S. J. Shorey the newly appointed pastor of the Church will occupy the pulpit at both services.

JUST IMAGINE.—This newsy journal will be mailed to anyone sending us 25 cents for six months, commencing on July 1st. Tell your friends about it.

FOOT BALL.—A foot ball match was played last night between the Black and Blue and Black and White football clubs, which resulted in a defeat of the former.

WANTED.—A good live man to sell a household necessity, just introduced. One of the fastest selling articles in the world. Sells at sight. $1 per day guaranteed. Apply at once to Wm. Austen, Paisley House, Napanee.

NEW BUS.—C. Anderson has purchased an elegant new bus from James St. Charles, Belleville. It is a beauty the painting on the sides being done in most exquisite style and will be a great addition to his new first class livery.

THE TORONTO EXHIBITION. The Prize List for the next Toronto Industrial Fair, which is to be held from the 7th to the 19th of September, has been issued. Copies can be procured by dropping a post card to Mr. Hill, the secretary, at Toronto.

A NEW POWER.—Geo. Stevens is building a motor to run by a spring power, to be used in running boats, sewing machines, etc. It consists of four springs and a small combination of gearing on the principle of clock work and will be about one horse power.

MARRIED.—At Hampton Place, Thomas street, on Wednesday, June 24th, by the Rev. A. B. Chambers, LL.B., J. P. Vrooman, M. D., Yarker, to Rose, second daughter of the late Edward Cathedral, Barrister, London, Eng., and adopted daughter of Mrs. D. H. Ham, Esq., Napanee, formerly of Newburgh. The bridesmaids were Miss Vrooman, of Yarker, sister of the groom, and Miss Bay McDonald, of Collingwood, the groom being supported by Dr. Thomas Weir, of Toronto. The bride was elegantly attired in pale pink silk with pearl trimming, with the customary orange blossoms and veil, and carried in her hand a bouquet of white roses and looked exceedingly handsome. They left by the 1:30 train for Montreal and New York. The presents were in large variety and costly. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Finlay, St. Thomas; Miss McDonald, daughter of the Rev. A. McDonald, Collingwood; Miss Joe Hooper, Kingston; Mrs. R. D. Finlay, Mrs. Creser, and Miss M. Wilson, Camden East.

BIG BLAZE AT PICTON.—June 25th.—A fire broke out shortly before one o'clock this morning in the Central Hotel, main street, which was totally destroyed with most of the contents. In close proximity to the hotel were a number of frame outbuildings which were ignited and destroyed which included barn and sheds in connection with the Central Hotel, Herrington house, John Gordon's livery and a barn belonging to Mr. Hiram Willbanks also a barn used by Thomas Kerr; the brick buildings on the east and west respectively owned and occupied by Mrs. Thomas Reid, as a boot and shoe shop. The express and great Northwestern Telegraph office and Benjamin Gillispie and a grocery store owned by the latter, were completely gutted. The fire was got under control about 3:30 this morning. The Central hotel was insured for $4000, $150 on barn, and $3000 on contents. It was occupied by Peter Hicks & B. Gillespie, insured for $3200, on building, and $2800 on grocery. Thos. Reid, insured $2000 on buildings, $2000 on stock, and $600 on furniture. J. A. Rawson, agent for express and G. N. W. Telegraph Co., no insurance. Z. Herrington, loss about $3000, insured for $1500. J. Gordon barn insured for $300. H. Willbanks barn no insurance. A number of guests and domestics made a narrow escape from the Central Hotel, and several being obliged to jump from upper windows, and just escaped by means of the fire escapes from the third story, several were more or less injured. One of the domestics was injured in her escape, receiving a sprained ankle, and injury to the spine.

On the outside, "S. J. S."

FINE MUSICIANS.—On Sunday evening last in the Western Methodist church, Mr. Sheppard, conductor of the choir in the Anglican church, Port Hope, sang a solo entitled "Calvary," while the collection was being taken up. Mr. Sheppard has a very fine voice, and all who heard him were highly pleased with his singing. His accompaniment on the organ was played by his daughter, Miss M. E. Sheppard, sixteen years of age, who also played the closing voluntary. Miss Sheppard has had but three lessons on the pipe organ, but all who heard her say that she is a fine musician, and that she handled the organ in an accomplished manner. We hope to hear Mr. S. and his daughter on another occasion.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.—The death of David Harlehy, of Bathurst, by a lightning stroke, during the recent storm, was a lamentable occurrence. Deceased was ploughing in a field when the bolt struck him. The flash was very vivid. The bolt struck one of the horses first, then ran along to Mr. Harlehy, taking a bit out of the plough handle, and then killed the other horse. A thin, black mark on the bodies told of its course. All three lay near together, the two horses facing each other. At dinner time Mrs. Harlehy sent a five-year-old child to bring the father to the midday meal, but the little one brought back the news that her father was asleep on the ground and she could not awaken him, and that the horses were asleep too. At this the poor mother apprehended the fatal occurrence, and running to the field saw her husband lying dead in the midst of his toil.

THE PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER SAYS:—No more graceful tribute was ever paid to the worth and popularity of a minister than the spontaneous expression of homage rendered Rev. S. J. Shorey, the retiring pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church, which was implied in the overflowing attendance on Sunday night when he preached his last sermon to the congregation he has ministered unto during the past three years. Before the hour for beginning the service had arrived the little sanctuary was crowded to the doors, and scores were unable to gain entrance. Representatives from all denominations were present to show their esteem and admiration, who was universally respected. Shorey says he aimed to gain the regard as a man and citizen rather than the authorized minister of the gospel. He has been eminently successful. Recognized as a most liberal man who took an interest in the affairs, as well as a highly successful, exceedingly popular clergyman, well words sank deep into the hearers, listening hundreds, and none present felt that the town were losing a man who it would be difficult to replace. Rev. Mr. Shorey must feel gratified at the unanimous honor accorded him by the people of all denominations on Sunday, who turned out in such large numbers to listen to his last sermon. It ought to assure him that he leaves many real friends behind him in Peterborough, whose prayers will follow him to his new home in Napanee.

FAREWELL SERVICES.—In the Eastern Methodist church, on Sunday morning last, the Rev. A. B. Chambers preached his farewell sermon to the members of his congregation, and in the evening he delivered an address entitled "Sunshine and Shadow," in which he gave the impressions left on his mind by six years residence in the town and intercourse with its people. He referred to the admirable location of Napanee, its fine residences, the beauty of its tree-shaded streets, which elicited the admiration of visitors; the commodious churches, the liberality displayed in the erection of buildings for educational purposes, the excellence of the schools, and the high character of its public men. The reverend gentlemen laid special emphasis on the fact that among professional men of all classes, as well as among the members of the municipal council and Board of Education, and men connected with the press, there was a singular freedom from the vice of intemperance. Among the shadows, he referred to the neglected state of the burying ground near the east ward school; the absence of a public park near the centre of the town; the fact that the cemetery was not yet in such condition as would become a town of the size and importance of Napanee; and the unpleasant fact that so many old people, guilty of no other crime than age and poverty, were confined with criminals in the prison designed for the latter class. Mr. Chambers concluded by expressing his gratitude to members of other congregations in the town for their sympathy and friendly treatment of himself and his family.

POLL TAX REDUCED.—By an act passed by the late Ontario Assembly, the rate of poll tax has been cut down to one dollar, in place of two, as formerly.

FIRE INSURANCE.—Many different reports get into circulation as to the burning of Mr. G. Vanalstine's barn etc, especially as to insurance. The facts are: on barn No. 1 there was an insurance of $400, value $620. On barn No. 2 there was $125 insurance, value $350. Insurance on the drive house $125, value $300. On the cow shed, insurance $60, value $120. Total insurance $710, value of property burned $1370.

"SUMMER TOURS ON THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY."—We have received a copy of the above, which contains a description of the line of the C. P. R. and other useful information to Tourists. Parties wishing to visit the Pacific coast should not fail to get rates. Tickets good for 6 months and a choice of several routes to return by. For particulars apply to any agent of the C. P. R. E. McLAUGHLIN, Agent.

A PRETTY WEDDING.—On Wednesday, of last week, S. Brizee, of Syracuse, N. Y., was married to Miss Pansy Taylor, Newburgh. The ceremony took place at the residence of Hiram E. Parks, brother in law of the bride, Deseronto, and was performed by Rev. J. J. Rice, a large number of relatives and friends of the contracting parties being present. The bride was attired in a travelling suit of brown and was attended by her niece, Miss Jessie Taylor, of Deseronto.

LUMBERING OPERATIONS.—The Napanee river logs of the Rathlun company have all been delivered at Deseronto. It will probably be some time before all are rafted out of the Moir. The rear drives are coming on slowly. The Salmon river drive has about reached Shannonsville. About 25,000 railway ties were taken out of that drive at Beaver Lake and will be loaded on cars at Erinsville station for delivery to the Grand Trunk railway. The Kingston, Napanee & Western railway is proving a great advantage to the Salmon and Napanee rivers operations by relieving the drives when the water is low. The drivers on the Trent will probably all reach the Bay of Quinte, but at a somewhat later date than usual.

BAD REPUTATION.—The following was clipped from the editorial columns of the Daily Ontario, of June 19th, and gives the Beaver a pretty bad cut. "The Napanee Beaver is a most detestable sheet one that should be scouted out of our midst, that should be treated with contempt and contumely by every patriotic Canadian. Existing in this glorious Dominion of ours, surrounded by all the blessings of liberty, reveling in the luxuries of this land, a land blessed with the presence of Rykert and McGreevy and Col. Denison and Tupper's sons and scores of other disinterested patriots, its columns teem and reek and small out loud for miles around" with the foulest treason."

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.—On Friday, of last week, Mr. J. G. Allison, of Tyendinaga, with his wife and little girl drove to Lonsdale mills with some wool. On the return trip wishing to water his horses at a trough on the side of the road he attempted to turn the horses in when the wheel got under the box of his wagon. The whole party were immediately thrown out against the horses who were startled and ran away, dragging Mr. Allison and his companions with them quite a distance. The wagon was smashed to pieces. Fortunately, the horses did not kick or some of the party would have been killed. Mr. Allison sustained serious bruises and ugly scratches. Mrs. Allison was much bruised and cut and has been unable to move every since though gradually recovering, while the little girl had her hands and knees badly scratched. People who witnessed the occurrence state that it was one of the wildest runaways they ever saw.

THE DOG DAYS.—The dog days are coming. The dog days last from the beginning of July to Aug. 11. The popular theory is that they are so called because dogs then go mad; but the notion is etymologically false, besides being untrue in fact. Dogs, strange to say, are rather less liable to rabies then than at other times. "Dog days" is really a translation of the Latin "dies caniculares"—the twenty days before and after the heliacal rising (that is, appearance in the morning just before the sun) of the star Sirius, whom the Romans called "Canicula," or "the dog." The ancients attributed a most malevolent influence to this star—our "dog star"—and sacrificed a brown dog to appease its rage. If this were not done they thought that the sea would boil, the wine turn sour and dogs begin to grow mad, the bile increase and all animals grow languid. It is unnecessary to say that in the course of some ages Sirius will rise at midwinter instead of at midsummer. Perhaps some wiseacre, like those who are ready to believe in dog days and new moons changing the weather, and similar impossibilities, will then give him credit for the frost and snow.

WEDDING BELLS.—A large company of intimate friends and relatives assembled at the residence of C. J. Garrison, Esq., Orchard Grove, Trenton, on Wednesday, June 17th, to witness the marriage of his daughter, Addie J., to Mr. Warner, of Napanee. At eight the father of the bride led her to the altar. She was attended by Misses M. J. J. of Ottawa, and Bertha Garrison, of the bride. The groom was ably assisted by Messrs. F. D. Miller, of Bath, and J. Colborne. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. I. Allen, who was tastefully decorated, making everything a happy couple to the assembly. Congratulations, all they repaired to the ball, where a very elegant repast was provided with numerous courses that could tempt the inner man. The couple left for Quebec and Old Orchard Beach on their wedding tour. The bride was the recipient of the following presents: Pearls and diamond pin, by the groom; piano "Burwalut case," Harvey Warner, Esq.; hall rack, oak finish, S. C. Warner; silver tipping silver pitcher, Mrs. S. K. Miller and son; silver set nutcrackers and picks, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Garrison; china dinner and tea set, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Finkins; marble clock, C. M. Warner; silver celery dish, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Bell; pair silver salt spoons, Arthur and Hazel Bell; silver cake and pie knife, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Wartman; silver five o'clock tea set, A. and J. Arnott and Miss Frederick; individual breakfast cruet, Mr. Bert. Gould; one dozen silver teaspoons, one half dozen dessert spoons, one quarter dozen table spoons, butter knife and pickle fork, Mrs. Sidney Warner, mother of the groom; silver and put glass sugar bowl, Mrs. J. P. Lake; silver salver, Mr. and Mrs. John Garrison; one dozen silver teaspoons, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Lake and daughter; one ebony clock, Miss Bert. Garrison; pair vases, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Saksminth; silver strawberry set, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Warner; pair silver napkin rings, J. C. Christie; china bedroom set, Florence Warner; pair china fruit plates, Emma Garrison; table linen and dozen napkins, Mrs. C. G. Garrison, mother of bride; purse of money, C. J. Garrison, father of the bride; china strawberry set, Mrs. Henry Finkle. The bridesmaids were presented each by the groom with pins set in pearls.

—Some people make a practice of running down the newspaper. We will not attempt to state the grounds on which their hostility to this great modern means of disseminating intelligence is based, for it is extremely doubtful whether those grounds are more than an irrational prejudice, incapable of clear and logical statement. At any rate the newspaper does not come under the condemnation of the wisest and most philosophical observers of modern institutions.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?—"100 Doses One Dollar" means simply that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most economical medicine to buy, because it gives more for the money than any other preparation. Each bottle contains 100 doses and will average to last a month, while other preparations, taken according to directions, are gone in a week. Therefore, be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier.

PLEASURE SEEKERS AND TOURISTS LOOK HERE.—Arrangements have been made by the Richelieu line of Royal Mail steamers with the Rathbun Co'y., who will act as agents for them at Napanee, Deseronto, Belleville and Trenton. A steamer will be put on going west every evening except Monday, and calling at Deseronto about 6 o'clock—never before six. Napanee passengers can take the G. T. Ry., afternoon train and make the connection at Deseronto and passengers from the east coming off the boat can go to Napanee by the steamer Deseronto, or by the evening mixed. We have no doubt but that this will be a very popular route during the summer months by citizens who wish an airing and a view of the splendid scenery along the picturesque Bay of Quinte. Tickets may be obtained of E. McLaughlin C. P. R. office, and F. D. Burdette, K. N. & W. Ry. office, Napanee.

EXCURSION TO 1000 ISLANDS.—Saturday last, June 20th, was the occasion of the excursion organized by the Mutual Aid Society, which has just been organized in connection with the employees of the K. N. & W. R. The morning was cloudy and threatened rain, which we presume kept a number from going who under other circumstances would have joined in this day's outing. However, it did not rain, although it was cloudy all day with a nice breeze which added materially to the enjoyment of the excursionists. At 7.30 a.m. the train arrived from Deseronto with a rather slim crowd, which was a little discouraging to some of the "Aid" members. But nothing daunted our juveniles went forward with a bold front. Passing by Napanee Mills, Newburgh, Thompson's Mills, Camden East, and Yarker, increasing their numbers at each station, they met at the latter station a large train of excursionists including the Brass Band of Tweed Foresters, which played a few selections while the train was being made up. They then left Yarker and proceeded on their way to Harrowsmith, where a few more were added to the number. Reaching Kingston they then had half an hour to go up street or elsewhere, sightseeing. There being one of the new iron boats, better known by the name of "Whaleback," lying near the dock some were curious to have a view of this monster; but they were disappointed, as the boat was in the act of turning around. At any rate she was not near enough to allow them to get aboard her. She is an immense iron structure, cigar model. She looks to be about 400 feet long; it is said that when she is loaded she draws 23 feet of water. She has an after promenade deck, and wheelhouse forward; this part seemed to be wood painted white. The body of the whale is painted fire proof red. The excursion boat's, or some other boat's whistle, drew the party from this great sight. They then got back to the boat and in a few minutes were under way for Alexandria Bay. The sights along the river, especially at this time of year, are very beautiful, and everybody enjoyed the trip. They then partook of some refreshment. The dinner bell ringing there was a general rush for dinner. The boat's crew being equal for the occasion did justice to everybody and none went hungry. The name of the excursion boat was "Maud," one of the New York Central Steamship Co.'s Liners. A very good boat she is; makes good time, and also has good accommodation. Arriving at Clayton, on the American side, some of the crowd got off and had a game of base ball, neither side being professional. After playing three innings each, resulting in three whitewashes our boys beating the Claytonians by four to one, they decided to go down and wait for the boat which was along on time. Clayton is a nice town of two thousand people, beautifully situated on the River St. Lawrence about twenty-five miles below Kingston. It has some very fine buildings, principally constructed of wood, beautifully painted. The Americans have a taste for paint, even the ladies, so it is said, use a little. There are also some very fine buildings of brick and stone. One of these is especially noteworthy—St. Mary's church, a very imposing stone building erected in 1855. Having to hurry back to catch the boat which left Clayton at five o'clock, the excursionists found that they were not any too soon, as the boat arrived in a few minutes, and a little later they were on the way home, the band enchanting them with music. Tea was served from five to six and about 7 o'clock they arrived at Kingston, where the train was in waiting. A start was soon made for Napanee, which was reached about 9.30, everybody being well pleased with the day's programme. There were over 300 passengers on the "Maud," so even financially it was a success. We might here give special praise to the Rathbun Company, when we understand that their train was at the disposal of their employees on this occasion.
